

Multispektrum 24/7® Aktiv Saft

Supplied all around - now also as juice

Who wants to do its body something good, however at the same time without micro nutrients in capsule form would like to do, can terminate its search with good conscience: As an alternative to the proven combination preparation Multispektrum 24/7® there is now also the active juice of the same name from Biogena, which comes up with an adapted recipe and a delicious peach taste. This product is sweetened only with xylitol, also known as birch sugar - a sugar that does not cause caries and is also suitable for diabetics.

The easy to dose juice contains a wide range of different vitamins and minerals, making it a practical companion for the whole day. The optimized formula with iodine and extra vitamin D takes current nutritional recommendations into account and is therefore the ideal supplement for the whole family.

Multispektrum 24/7® Aktiv Saft therefore supports the daily basic supply with essential micronutrients, but can also counteract a potential additional requirement due to physical or mental stress. For children and adolescents, Multispektrum 24/7® Aktiv Saft is a fruity and tasty way of providing basic daily nutrition with 17 vitamins, minerals and trace elements.

Multispektrum 24/7® Aktiv Saft - for more vitality and well-being.
